Sir

Having laid before my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty your Letter of the 23rd Inst.^l with the Memorial of Merchants trading Demerara, Essequibo and Berbice relative to the protecting the Trade to, and from those Colonies; I am commanded by their Lordships to acquaint you that they feel it impossible, consistently with a due attention to other Services to allot another Ship of War to the Protection of the Outward bound West India Convoy, for the purpose of enabling the Commanding Officer to detach a Ship with the Trade to Demerara before he shall reach the Island of Barbadoes, but that their Lordships will send orders to the Commander in Chief on that Station
Robt. Long Esq. Chairman of the } Committee of Merchants - Town }

Station to direct a Convoy to sail with the ships from Barbadoes for Demerara as soon as possible after their arrival at that Island, and to afford every protection in his power to that settlement which the Force under his command will admit of, and that in order the better to enable him to do so, they have ordered an additional Frigate to join him. - I am &c

E. N.

Whitehall 20th March 1798 ⁷³ 75

To Mr. Napier.

Secret

My Dear Sir,

I think it right to inform you confidentially that by a letter I received yesterday from Mr. Cooke as well as from other Irish Intelligence there seems every reason to believe that the French (at least before the discovery of the late Plot) intended to have made a descent at in Ireland at the end of April or early in May.

This intelligence has been in some sort confirmed to me by a conversation with the American Captain

James of the Vice Admiral Court of Gibraltar, that he considered the Admission of such an Agency incompatible with the Rights and Privileges of the King's Garrison in that Fortref. and therefore to suspend the Proceedings in the said

William Wickham Esqr

Court

Captain Munnford, who has carried over a Delegate lately from Ireland which Delegate with some others we know are to return in April. Munnford informs me that he was offered a sum of Money from Charles La Fois at the Hague, with whom he has had several interviews, on condition that he should take some Persons directly over from Rotterdam to the North of Ireland without touching in any English Port.
This information (which I believe) seems worth attending to to, as it is of the last importance that these Persons should be prevented from arriving at their destination and the detaining any neutral ship that may have that destination for these next three or four Months, may produce the effect desired.

I wish you would have the goodness to inform me whether it is better that this information should be sent officially to you or whether this private communication be not safer and as effectual.

W. W.

of the Vice Admiral Court of Gibraltar, that he considered the Admission of such an Agency incompatible with the Rights and Privileges of the King's Garrison in that Fort. and therefore to suspend the Proceedings in the said Atk Ship Action at Liverpool 15th April 1798.

Sir

I beg to inform your Lordships that after getting cured of a severe wound received in my leg on board the Resolute at Guadaloupe, on my way to Portsmouth, to go on board one of His Majesty's Ships to join admiral Blyth at Jamaica, with whom I sailed some years as master's mate, and flattered myself I could have made myself useful there, having been most part of 12 Years in the West Indies, I was impressed, and offered to deposit 50 Guineas in Captain Azules bank until I joined one of His Majesty's Ships, which he refused to do, until he hear from the Board. As the Tender

2 Tender is here which will sail shortly for Plymouth I request their Lordships to permit me to go by land to London that I may use my Interest with my friend the Earl of Hillsborough to recommend me to a ship for the West Indies, I have the honor to be Sir Sir Sir

Wm L^d Waring

Edmund Peckham Esq^r

His Majesty's Ship Actaon
Liverpool 10th April 1798.

Sir

I have received yours of the 9th Instant respecting William M^r.
Maring, In answer to which, I beg leave to inform you I donot think any thing he set forth in that letter to be true; except that about 50 Guineas, he came aft some time back & asked me if I would release him on his procuring two men in his room but I answered him I would not for 20, without their Lordships order, to whom he might apply - Smile when he said he would leave 50 Guineas in my hand to let him go on shore to look out amongst his friends, but which I refused, and as to his being wounded, I see no mark of a wound, but such as a man might might have by breaking his Ship nor did I hear any thing about that or his being on his way to Portsmouth to join any of His Majesty's ships, when he was pressed but a different Story, he was pressed at Chester by Lieut. Levett a copy of whose Letter that came with him, I have the honor to transmit herewith, he told me on his first coming on board the afternoon that he came from Dublin and went to Chester to get some money due to him; and told so plausible a tale that I granted him permission to walk the Quarter Deck, but, that he had soon obliged me to withstand that Indulgence, and from the word he shows at being sent round in the Tender, a cheaper way than going by Land if his real real Intentions were to join any of His Majesty's ships, gives me a reason for concluding there is something more concerning him than we are able to fathom, and I am of opinion, if he once got on shore he never would return to his service again.

My much obliged

Wm. Johnson Esq.

Chester, February 23. 1798.

I have this day sent you a pressed man, who for some time has assumed the name and situation of Lieut. Henry Moring of the Navy, under which disguise, he has contracted several debts he is unable to pay, and has from several Gentlemen here a very bad Character, he was brought to me and on examining him, at first, he insisted on his being the said Lieut. Henry Moring, which is on the spot, but on my closer examining him afterwards, said he had been only acting Lieutenant, and finding him to differ much in his account, and as been so long in several Ships, I thought proper to impress him into the Magedon service being a minute by the Surgeon and found fit for His Majesty's Service, I have transmitted the account of the above Henry Waring to the Admiralty as I have by me a Letter of his writing to a Gentleman here calling himself Lieut. Henry Waring of the Army

Yours &c

The bookman

W. L. P. M. to the owner?
by W. L. P. M. same day.

I have the strongest reasons to suspect the conduct of a considerable tradesman in the Strand, who in 1792, & 93 was intimately connected with the leading Jacobins in Paris, & was one of the remarkable reputation who dared to call themselves English Delegates, & congratulated the convention on the progress of their labours — he is not a little qualified to give them all necessary information, as besides a tolerable knowledge of French, he is likewise conversant in the Portuguese & Spanish languages.

he was at that period avowedly a member of the L. Correspondent Society, & in my hearing called himself at the door of the convention, (when one of the ^{door} keepers said, that none but members could come in at that door) A moi, aussi, je suis Depute' Anglais.

Bath 23
N. B. Ch...

He appears in a very prosperous way, & it is not improbable that he is still very closely connected with these wretches—acting most probably as a deputy Manager for the Tyrants of Paris.

if Sir, upon such outlines of a notorious Character, you are willing to think my information may be of some use, & inclined to think that it might lead farther, I shall consider myself bound to enter into a more particular explanation, as it might happen to be a link of a material chain at this alarming crisis.

if any of his Majesty's ministers to whom you wish to communicate this letter, desires to know my principles. I can have from some of the leading members of the Government of Ireland, undoubted vouchers to ascertain the same.
